Blauparts would like to announce the German bottled and engineered Ravenol SSL engine oil. Ravenol Super Synthetic Oil SSL is a fully synthetic low friction SAE 0W-40 oil for vehicles with and without turbochargers. It is formulated with special highly effective additives to offer great lubrication with excellent oil penetration properties. We managed to combine the properties for an excellent oil flow and protection during the engine's cold running phase due to the SAE 0W. Also great protection and reliability is had in heavy engine load situations with the SAE 40. This combination makes for an extraordinary and all around great motor oil.

The following features can be experienced with Ravenol SSL 0W40:

- Excellent cold starting behavior
- Fuel saving characteristics for part and full load
- Very stable and excellent viscosity behavior
- Good shear stability
- Safe smear layer at very high operating temperatures
- Excellent detergent and dispersant properties
- Broad protection against wear, corrosion and foaming
- Excellent aging stability
- Low evaporation loss
- Excellent engine cleanliness
