Blauparts is pleased to make available our BLAU shocks for the Audi A4 (B6 Platform) models with sport suspension! We offer our shocks in several options. Replace them in sets, all four, or a complete sport shock replacement kit with all the necessary shock mounts, bump stops, dust sleeves, and hardware.

Customers would agree that their driving experience is one of the things they love about their Audi A4. However, over time and with increased mileage, many begin to experience a softer and less responsive feel and handling. We understand how important it is for owners to restore their Audi A4 sport suspension back to that genuine Feel the Road German driving experience. The development goals of our engineers for our shocks and struts are plain and simple... to make that happen! Many individuals may also complain about the B6 platform factory Audi A4 sport suspension being too harsh or stiff. With the testing we've done on our B6 platform Audi A4 we have experienced a much improved driving comfort while yet maintaining the desirable hint of sport and handling.

Our shocks are designed with shaft length and valving to accommodate the A4 sport springs and will fit vehicles equipped with factory sport suspension and aftermarket sport springs (i.e. H&R, Eibach). However we do not recommend them being used with race springs.
